- Property perimeter alerts

The emerging class of devices and services puts practicality first — making smart home management affordable, integrated and accessible.

Services range from those that provide convenience and comfort to those that improve safety and peace of mind. Crank up the thermostat before you get home from the office or confirm you closed the garage door or turned off the coffee maker. Control locks, lights, thermostats and cameras from a tablet, smartphone or computer. With the interface of home management functioning from a screen, owners are able to be at home even when they're away.

Full-featured home automation packages are available and include a cost effective and energy efficient centralized video storage solution.

SENIOR CARE

Taking care of family members and loved ones is what people do. But even simple tasks, like ensuring medication was taken properly, can take their toll when they start to dominate the caregiver's life. Within the "new normal" domain of caregiving, one in four US adults is taking care of a spouse, family member or friend (AARP Public Policy Institute), and this is only expected to increase due to the large number of Americans over age 66.
